ZERO GRAVITY SLEEPING POSITION

ZERO GRAVITY POSITION

Zero Gravity + Pressure relief = COMFORT

The zero gravity position is a term and position development by NASA as a position for astronauts to help relieve stress of earth's gravity on your body while taking off in to space. The zero gravity position is achieved by lying on your back, then raising your leg and head above stomach/heart. This position minimizes the effect of gravity on your back, evenly distributes weight on your body in a relaxed state.
